PoyPoy2

Ladies and Gentlemen!
Channel POY!POY!, the greatest TV show of the century, is back, and better than ever! First, for the benefit of those who don't know about "PoyPoy," we'll explain the game itself. It's a simple game, really: pick up the items on each stage,
and hit your opponents with them. That's it!
That's really all there is to it! I ask you, is this great, or what?

The rules of the game may be simple, but don't make the mistake of thinking that it's a stupid game because of that. By means of the Psycho-Gloves the players wear, which enable them to use special super-powered throwing techniques, it is possible to perform dozens of truly beautiful throwing maneuvers! And it isn't easy to win through the eleven stages, with all their various devices, either! Now, the first order of business is to switch it on,
and start playing

Necessary Items

Two players:
two controllers

Three or four players:
as many controllers
as there are players,
and a Multi Tap
(sold separately)

Cautions for Using Multi Tap:

When connecting controllers to the Multi Tap, be sure to connect the dedicated controller to the Multi Tap controller port 1-A or controller port 2-A, before connecting the remaining controllers sequentially.

From the title screen:
press the START button to switch to the mode selection screen.
Use the Directional buttons to choose which of the five modes displayed you wish to play.
Make your selection by pressing either the ○ or × button.

This section explains the five game modes:

Party Play:

For 1-4 players. Fight for a preselected number of rounds (which may be configured by the users) to score the most total points. No prize money is awarded.

Player Set-Up

This is where the player configurations are made. You can load psycho-glove data here.

Member Entry

Choose characters here.

Stage Selection

Choose the stage you want to play. You can make a roulette-style choice by using the START button.

Psycho-Glove Set-Up

Choose Psycho-Gloves, with their various special throwing techniques, and play the match.

PoyPoy2 Worldcup

The Poy!Poy! Cup

For one player, this is where you enter the Poy!Poy! World Cup Tournament, which is played out by sixteen of the best players from all over the world. The tournament is made up of three tiers: the qualifying rounds, the tournament proper, and the championship. The qualifying rounds and tournament consist of five matches each, with the star scorers, that is, the contestants with the highest overall scores, being the ones to advance to the next level. Finally, the championship is fought between the top four star scorers, with the winner being declared World Cup champion.

Character Selection

Choose from among the fifteen possible players. You can load data from Memory Cards here.

Glove Shop You can buy gloves here with the money in your possession.

You can save and load with the save machine here.

Cup Match Demo

After the announcer introduces the players, the stages will be shown.

Psycho-Glove Set-Up

Choose the glove you want to use from among those in your possession, and start the match.

Your sponsor will give you fight money after the qualifying rounds and tournament, depending on the results of each match. You can save this money and buy yourself new gloves.

World Cup Poy Poy 2

The Meaning of Stars

After each game in the World Cup, scoring stars are awarded: four to the first-place finisher, two to the second-place finisher, and one to the third-place finisher. Overall standings are determined by the total number of such stars which players have accumulated up to a given point. If multiple players have the same number of stars, then rank is determined by the number of points each player has, from high to low.

Scoring Plaque

If you win the World Cup, in addition to the prize money, you receive a scoring plaque, which shows all of your results in detail, from the tournament to the championship. Scoring plaques can be saved.

Team Battle

This is a mode wherein two players team up. Players make up teams of two, and then square off against teams created by the computer (COM). In the Player Set-Up screen, you can change the settings to allow you to team up with the computer (COM). The round ends when the time limit is reached, or one side defeats both players on the other side. If you defeat all seven of the computer's teams, you get a big bonus.

Point Scoring

The time limit for each round is 90 seconds. When a round ends, the points scored by each player are displayed. The total number of points accumulated when all rounds are over determines ranking. Point categories are as follows:

Direct Hit Points: each direct hit scores one point.

Lucky Points: each lucky heart acquired during the game scores two points.

Round Points: determined based on when a player was out of the round, as well as how much Endurance players had left when a round was over.

Robot

This robot provides information. It appears to be out of order, but it seems to conceal some kind of secret...

Use the Psycho-Gloves you have saved in your Memory Cards to play with other gamers! When competing against other players, in addition to loading the individual data which you each have (see Loading Saved Games, page 15, for details), you can also use the data provided by one player for everyone playing. It's very simple to do. All it takes is inserting a Memory Card in Memory Card Slot 1 (1-A), your game data will be loaded automatically when you turn on your PlayStation.

gameover PoyPoy2

In Party Play Mode

When the set number of rounds have been played, ranking is determined, and the game is over. Choose either "Rematch" or "Quit".

In PoyPoy Cup Mode

The game ends when one of the following conditions are met:

- * if the player places Ninth or lower at the end of the qualifying rounds;
- * if the player places Fifth or lower at the end of the tournament;
- * when the championship is over.

In Team Battle Mode

Team Battle Mode is an elimination game, so the game ends when the players lose.

save

In Poy!Poy! Cup Mode (1-player), players can save their accumulated prize money and Psycho-Glove data. When saving data, first insert a Memory Card in Memory Card Slot 1 (1-A when using a Multi Tap), then execute the save routine. (Make sure there are enough free blocks on your Memory card before commencing play).

Precautions for Ending the Game

Before switching the game off, the proper thing to do is open the disc cover, and remove the disc after it has stopped spinning. Only then should you turn the game off. If you switch the game off before removing the disc, it will not stop spinning, and you may injure yourself if you try to remove the disc.

You can load and play previously saved Poy!Poy! Cup data.

- * Place Memory Cards with data saved on them into the Memory Card Slot for each player.

- * When loading data, players go to the Player Setup screen, and press the SELECT Button to display the Memory Card onscreen. Pressing the SELECT Button once more will delete the mark, and prevent data from loading.

- * Choose OK and press either the ○ or × button to start loading.

Note: if the Memory Card is not inserted properly, an error message will appear, after which the player will be returned to the Player Setup screen.

Stones:

There are two types of stones: large and small. The large stones inflict more damage than small stones when a player strikes an opponent with them.

Missiles:

There are two types of missiles: large and small.

The large missiles have a larger blast radius than the small ones.

Depending on the blast radius, multiple chain reaction missile explosions are possible.

Boxes:

If thrown and destroyed, a variety of items may emerge from these boxes, including Color Balls, Hearts (which restore Endurance), and Time Bombs.

Suppliers:

These are robots which replenish exploded bombs and items which are no longer on a given stage.

A master of the Shocker Psycho-Glove, there is no one who can best him at its use. There are suggestions that his personality is unstable, because on the one hand, he takes winning and losing fairly seriously, while on the other hand, once he gets going he wields destructive power that no one can control. This has even earned him the nickname "Crazy Deco."

Instructed from an early age in how to be a PoyPoyer, Tenten is South Korea's superstar in the sport, having developed psycho-power of the first rank. Her unique, hang-tough fighting style, in which she wields the Hellfire psycho-glove with great skill, has earned her acclaim.

Ireland's expert Poyer, Cutey's nickname comes from the fact that she is considered cute-looking. She may look sweet and charming, but she possesses an extraordinary degree of psychopower, enough to earn her the unofficial title of "the Witch of Western Europe," in contrast to Apache's being referred to as "the Conqueror of South America." She is the odds-on favorite to win this year's tournament.
